Mrs. Shiner in her reclining chair, business room - 14 wks ago tonight she met with an injury by falling on the stone ^{cement} walk on south west-side, just at dusk. Unable to step since -

Bright-clear day - Windows & doors open -

Miss Gordon just recovering from severe illness - Dysentery.

Mr. & Mrs. Hazzen left for Lynn about two wks ago -

Born in Milton, Saratoga Co.

N. Y. - Aug - 21, 1826 -

Francis A. Wood -

Father's name - Jesse Wood

Mother's - Rebecca Bryan

~~Your~~ Mother died of Consumption when Mrs. Skinner was in his old - She was considerd by Elder Powell as a very remarkable woman - She possessed much force of character, a clear intellect and a highly religious nature she took an active part in meetings & spoke with much ease & intelligently -

Yates Slocum - cousin of Mrs S.
He had an Aunt on his father's side (His relationship to Mrs - Shimer was on the mother's side) who was stolen when a child by Indians - not found till a woman, then the wife of a chief - refused to return to her relatives.

Mrs. Shimer named Frances after a half sister of Mr - Slocum & ~~she~~ she was named after this one who was the wife of the chief.

When Mrs. Shimer's sister, the eldest child was about a yr - old, her father & mother went "west" - that is to Onadaga Co - Several days in going (Central or towards the ~~west~~ of state) my worked 10 yrs on the farm he bought & then found he had an imperfect title & was bliged to abandon the land - went back - took care of parents (that is of Mr Wood) They assumed the debts, paid of other heirs. Mrs Wood wished to go west again but they remained on the homestead. Mrs.

Shimer was ^{not} born till ten years after her parents returned to Milton. Mrs. S., the youngest of the family - there were three brothers Jewell, Falmadge Bryant, Irene Lewis. These were between the two sisters -

Stowell died when 17 or 18 of fever. - Talunadge was killed by Indians in California.

Childhood. When a little tot her mother was going away she cautioned the girl to look after the goslings (L) if it rained. Little Frank felt the responsibility of the young family and thinking it might rain gathered the little brood under a pan that used to belong to the baking utensils of the fireplace discarded since stores were in vogue. With great difficulty the little care taker gathered the brood under the pan. When her mother returned her mother inquired about the goslings. Oh, I have taken care of them and little Frank

Memorandum

A managerie with serious variations was announced for Milton or ~~over~~ town near. Mrs S - very anxious to go, but they feared it would not be considered quite the thing. The family hesitated - By & by Deacon No. 1 of the Baptist Church came on his way to the show, he followed by No 2 & then 3 with families. Supt Elder Powell followed suit - There was no longer any question - "Frank" went to the show.

Went to ~~sweep~~ engage help for her sister - inquired of Aunt Sarah — She planted her elbows on the fence & said "There aint any girls now days; they are all ladies" —

Mrs. S's parents went when young with two of their children to western N.Y. — In the land. Clear made a home - Mother very delicate Mrs. Ash, a child then, the principal helper, — Ten years passed & then the title proved not good & all was lost. They went back to the old home & took care of the father & mother. They lived comfortably, but there was still $1000 unsettled claim of other heirs when the father died & estate was settled.

Childhood Went to school at $2\frac{1}{2}$ for the "fundit" & would go home to her mother at recess & return -

In the habit of having much play time with another little girl. Teacher came to think the other who was older should remain in school longer -

Mrs. Shiner allowed to go out alone - This interfered with the tetter they had been having to Little Frank (Mrs. S.) reported to expedients for having her tetter - There was an old ten plate stove near the tetter - The child dragged some of the loose plates on to the board at one end then put herself on the other end & tettered to her heart content - The teacher finding he did not come in for some time looked out to see what had become of her & smiled as she saw the effect she had resorted to. Little Frank watched her face till she saw the smile, then felt sure she was not to be censured & continued to enter in high glee -

When very young, there was part of the time a woman in charge - Frank was inclined to be mischievous so she & one of the boys was tied to the school masters waist by a handkerchief & led about as he moved - At other times she sat by him on the flat form & now & then he would slip a bit of licorice, of which she was very fond, into her hand. On another occasion she had been in some mischief & he pen in her hand & made as if he was going to throw her head first into the fire.

She begged energetically & made profuse promises of good behavior & was put down again.

She seems to have never been much punished. Her father once feigned preparations to use a switch & she ran away from him & though she appeared again in the field where this happened she was never punished by him. She had her own way with little remonstrance.

Mrs. S. did not play with dolls because she wanted something alive - She had various animals to play with - Cats unnumbered - Used to make clothes for her cat - She trained a calf so she could steer it after a fashion with lines & she used to hang it - draw her about on her ^{little} sled - she ~~would draw the calf over the~~ ~~snow~~

Greatly enjoyed mittens. Would like to button her brother's jacket on & go with them for chestnuts She earned part of the money she used in ^{going to} school by selling mitts & geese down - was sent at seven to a course in Milton (Ct) to school. She does not quite understand why sent so young. Dreadfully homesick as, also, when sent at eleven - Cried daily Thinks there is nothing equal to homesickness to make one miserable - Was in Stillwater Academy at eleven - John pres. of National Teachers Assn - was at the head of the school - Taught seven terms in between going at eleven & about eighteen kept house for her father on her return the first time - Went to Albany Normal in the early twenties. Worked tremendously here - Graduated in a year - running - I never remember my father punishing me". The nearest to this seems on one occasion, when a little child she went to the field & asked her father for the horse sick. She had held the reins long before she could touch her feet to the floor of the carriage - Father said "no" - She was insistent - still "no" was the ans - Finally her father told her to go to the house - She went a short distance away & returned with the same request. He seized a corn stalk & started towards her as though he would use it over her - She disappeared!

Her mother would not hasten with her reprimand but take her out in the orchard to a particular tree & talk with her over her misdeeds till as she expressed it she came to feel "it would be a privilege to be punished". Having administered the punishment the mother knelt down with the little girl & prayed most earnestly for her. The mother died when little Francis was ten, but the lessons were never forgotten.

my nurse for her father when eleven-When 12 or 13 their family physician was ill sometime & finally died. Her feelings were much wrought upon. She wished to show in some way her interest so she reflected that there would perhaps be strangers there & people must eat under all distressing circumstances so she baked for rolls, pies & cake & a long laundry basket full & sent to her afflicted neighbor.

The mention of Cousin Dave "always suggests good natured, dry humor Mrs. Shimer very fond of him.
He used to tease her about a distant connection of the family whom used he visited - She inquired after Frances Ann - "Frances Ann said Cousin Dave, who is she - Why Frances Ann Wood - sister of Cousin Caroline Wood - Oh! # Frank They call her Frank - She likes to be called that - "She does", was the reply, She's not so wise as I thought she was" -

revert N. Moore, Supt of schools had noticed Mrs. S - in her school work as teacher. He voluntarily obtained her an appointment at the U. S. Normal - She felt she walked on air when she found she was going. Mr. Moore had ^{was} been editor of a Co. paper & a man of considerable local influence

Early Sunday Days - Felt - Stupid Cookman was driving off grounds with another serving temporarily. Miss Wood, Gregory & Kibbard were in the office and one was near window.
The transient says to the other "What do you suppose them women do all day long" — Oh! I suppose they look at themselves in the glass

Katey - Mrs. S. ; then Miss Wood was visiting her sister!
Mrs. Ash. A beautiful Irish girl just over. Came to Mrs.
S. because of a relative there - Miss Wood took a fancy to her & finally engaged her to go to her C. I as laundry.
She served faithfully for a year and something more.
She occasionally went to Keefort, the nearest place to a priest, to have her sins disposed of - The priest told her she ought to marry & promised to find her a

"man" - Soon after the priest was in NDC - stopping with one of the Cete - Ch - * with him was a man no longer very young who was seeking a wife - Soon arrangements were made & Katy promised to wed him the next morning. All this had been kept very quiet - Early Monday morning Katy appeared at Nip Woods door & said she wished to see her on business very important.
Nip W. promised to see her in the office as soon as she went down - Upon entering she found

Katy ready - I went to consult John - & soon by dint of questioning Miss W. - obtained the information just given - Miss Wood soon told her that advice seemed unnecessary - & soon learned that Katy had already been to Mrs Hurley's & borrowed a black silk gown & crape shawl to be married in. Kate returned to Lucy after the marriage - She had no intention of marrying without a trousseau - except those a black silk gown so Miss Gregory & Hubbard entered into the case very heartily & soon a black silk was chosen & they helped make it up - In due time, the newly married groom came to Mr C - for his bride. Kate met him at the gate & sent him down town - He was not in suitable attire to suit his new wife. He took his wife's trunk to Keeford & left her to ride in the stage.

This was her wedding trip.

The husband was a sturdy, well to do farmer - an Irishman - They had plenty & later she sent word to Mrs. Shimer that she rode in her carriage & carried her own furse just - she - Miss Wood, used to do -

Time went on & the husband departed this life - The widow had remained one a suitable time then she went to N + C - to visit - her old place of work - Mrs - Shimer did what she could to make the visit pleasant. Kate seemed to have something on her mind, but did not reach the point of evening till they were near the depot - Mrs. S. was taking her in her phaeton. She, Kate, was considering matrimony again - The sequel showed that she married the German who was running ~~the~~ her farm - Whether wisely or unwisely no later news tells us -

Childhood - Attended district school & kept house at 11 - Often "Old Lady Mann" would call & her father would tell of her exploits and give the visitor a piece of Frank's pie or cake - Teacher boarded with her for her term - Took great pride in keeping house so well she should wish to board with

Teaching - People had heard what she did when at the Academy so thought she might teach the children in summer - July 14 - Squire Wheeler the examiner said he would prefer to see her in school so they set her to teaching & "Squire Wheeler" spent a half day in school - Went home with her & wrote the certificate without asking a question.

Later - the last school she taught - before going to Albany in Factory Village - Hard set - Three teachers turned out by boys winter before - Two of them even - dumped one iron out in the snow - Squire Wheler lived in this neighbor-Saw him frequently as she passed his house - He showed great interest - 70 pupils in school - had a class in the evening - one came to her room in the morning - She used to "make pens" for all of this through & set copies for them after school as long as she could see - Took a hard full hour to finish them -
Never had trouble in government -

squire or judge Wheeler was not sup - at this time - One "Moore" ^{Albert} in charge He & Wheeler got her appointment at the Normal at Albany - This an important thing - Not easy to "get in" - Methods were taught - principles Necessity of previous preparation - "Had credit of having best prepared abstracts in class" - Success in practice school "decided our fate" - Never knew till the last whether or not we were to have a diploma.
Only a certain number sent from each county - Must have good backing - "I was never more surprised in my life than when I read my papers for the Normal" - I tell you another examination -

They had private examination & passed as Senior 2

Surprise not - that she was admitted to Journal - No. 2 - that she was admitted as Senior One -

Mr. A., Miss G. & Mrs. S - went west together - to Milwaukee from Chicago, to M. - by boat from M. - to Jansville Wis.
This as near as one could get by rail - weather found several days at - Jansville - then at least - Rain continued though some let up as they drove about.
Jansville & said the country moved & hedge also. Suite ensued.

The question as to value was up & an old farmer having been said it would be worth about as much as other farm land but with all that "buck" on it, did not not think it worth much of anything.

Mrs Mason

Not well some time, but was taken down at opening of school yr - Died winter vacation. Mrs. S - took her east previous summer & had her examined Set at Mr. Farnum's, Cousin - in Hartford - Returned to W.C. - near the opening - Mrs. S - took care of her every night - up with her many times a night - Could take her up like a child - Autopsy showed tubercles in stomach & bowels - Great sufferer -

Work - All of work attended to personally. Only two pieces of work done by contract at any time - cisterns & pigg Sept. 23/97 - Mrs. S. is now telling Miss Rasmussen about her cistern.
She had urged the men to take great pains to press down the soil firm. Men thought her unnecessary particular - Sure it was all right. But a great rain came - (It was near New Years as the work had been delayed) They caved in. Mrs. S. was seldom so blue as then. She had another cistern dug & took the earth taken out & used to put in where the earth had fallen in. By this means stayed the walls - This highly important because so near the Jerry building.
The cisterns had to wait till Spring for finishing. The contractor would take no interest in The matter - there are nine cisterns connected together - 13 cisterns in all - laid solid brick work & solid concrete - She could get no one to help her with this planning for water supply. A great and continue anxiety - She wonders if they now take care of these things - So much time she has thought - of all these plans - for water - dry earth classes - &c

July 21/97 Miss Ragsnyder, Miss Landon & Jay in the room with Mrs. Skinner - The question was asked - If you could have a gift of power, what would you choose - different answers given - Mrs. S. - would have the power to obtain large sums of money to use to help people - & she would wish to be so good she did not care whether any one gave credit or not -

Aug 21/97 - A quiet, happy birthday. Yesterday a letter from Nora came with pleasant cheer & announcing the coming birthday gift - not-yet here. A letter from Mrs.
Ludwick - kind & affectionate with a little dainty embroided with forget me nots - A postal from Martha Powell in recognition of the notice of Mrs. S. - in the Standard Mrs. S. - was a bit late in rising giving 4 - time, to run down to Mrs. Bigelow for a little hand painted vase she wished for a gift. I arranged a table with the white embroidered cover given some time ago by Joanna - On this the birthday cake made by Miss Newell, is vase in the center - a two glass vase with "rose" and on a corner, Bell's picture, my gift of china, the letters of yesterday - Anna's picture & her cushion of last yr - with lovely flowers under neath - It was all pretty Mr. Lee - brought a lovely luncheon basket which we put on the desk temporarily - After she was ready we brought her in -

She was much pleased & has seemed to have a quiet enjoyment of it all through the day - The rain has come in torrents this afternoon making it so dark we could not write or read but affording opportunity for sitting -

Handwritten text along the right edge of the page, possibly bleed-through from the reverse side. The text is faint and difficult to decipher but appears to contain several lines of writing.

Sept. 5 79 Mrs. S. talking with 4 - tells of doing cooking at the Seelye 6 with with a deaf & partly dumb girl.
This is '57 just after they had put on new addition - To save her self from going to the wall during this crash she herself did the work of a man or two of them - The new addition was being put on & the times tightened - Mrs. S. - fainting, faded & played with her own hands 40 hours, helped handle the brick for the building & helped to lay the floor -

Handwritten text in a cursive script, likely from a manuscript or ledger, visible along the right edge of the page. The text is partially obscured by the binding and appears to be organized in columns or rows.

'Kits - Dec - 5/97.

Mary C - brought over her little mitter knitted with white-vest & white tipped toes to show Mrs. S-. She took it in her lap & the little pet cuddled down in such an affectionate way Mrs. S- asked M- what she would take for it - Some joking at one or two different-times resulted in Mrs. S- giving a "silver dollar" for the little kit. It was a very cunning pet & M- made as much of it as Mrs. Shiner, but poor Bob Fitzsimmons, the pugilistic cat that had rec'd all the favors of the household could not-bear it - He was so cross he was unbearable - he could not even stay in the house & would have nothing to do with Mrs. Shiner & Mrs. S- could not-bear this. Her sympathies were aroused for the knitter man was miserable. she tried in vain to reconcile him to the condition of things. It was no use so she gave her dollar bitty away - Mrs. Lee E - thinks it the greatest treasure she has just now & Prob is becoming reconciled now to his home & its inmates

special care with planting - think the trees had been delayed in coming. Mrs. S. in speaking of it said I worked out all day in a drenching rain to set those trees on Impressions made upon others

Bell's remark of the manner of people in Boston boarding house - seem to recognize in Mrs. S. - an unusual person -

Mechanic - intelligent - superior in his line - remarked casually to Jay in Dec. - Jan '98
"She has great vitality - a wonderful woman" - We were not discussing her qualities at the time - It was a voluntary remark -

Feb. 22/98

Mr. Shimer has just had the grove she first bought from Mr. Hull all grubbed out - The grove cost her $5000 in cash 14 yrs ago & had cost much more before the freeze. It had straggled or more in value & was Mrs. Shimer's pride. Last week it was all grubbed out. It cost her over 100 to get these roots out! The land is of the value of land just cleared & that remains very little now. The "Co" is to be largely grubbed out. Mrs. S. has come to this decision after careful thought & investigation. She has not shown any despondency but is full of plans for the future.
Mr. Cannon says that helps us she is she is forth four ordinary business men. I do not know of anyone more plucky one.

the lamentable situation than she - She is investigating every new thing presented & bent on finding some way out. Her faith in Florida is unshaken though her sympathies are stirred by the distress of the many who have lost.

Mar. 11 - Mr. May is at work for Mrs S - "10" has been grubbed out now "60" too - Mrs S. is corresponding with every man & every one who has any information she wants about her work. A prisoner on her chair she is ~~spending~~ with great vigor the work she is having done - She has had trees put out on the "home place" & the whole put in order - She is having Cassava planted particularly to help the industry. She is the first to put out camphor trees. She thinks & plans with the life & interest of the post - She is just trying to walk a me - yesterday she managed to push her chair into the front window & back. This for support. When back she said cheerily "did I make good time"

Apr - 4 - The ^{grove} trees on Fiddis have been cut down & today those on the place are - This work is wearing on Mrs. S - . Yesterday & today has had trouble with her heart. This work has required what the boys call 'nerve' - These groves that have been worth thousands were in this condition that a more heroic measure necessary or she would suffer entire loss. They could not be given away - To try to put them in shape means a great deal of money invested with a doubt as to the return.
It may be all loss, but she has gone into it & courageously pushes along. No one that I meet shows so much courage as she in regard to the industry that has ~~grown~~ the South. She is planting Cassava with trees hoping to make the working of the Cassava do for trees & that the return from Cassava will will make up for money put in work - As she expressed she hopes "one hand will wash the other".

Apr - 7 - "Sixty-one yrs ago my mother was buried" - Do you remember it distinctly - "Oh, Yes" -

Opening of the School -

Arrived in Mt. C. - May 8

Opened Wed " 11, 1853

Organized under the name of the Society - "First circular published by Board of Corporators before we were there" - School dates from that time. "Though we thus organized under the B., it was only for moral or social support - no financial support" except as pupils were furnished.

Conducted the school over a quarter of a year - Oct-'55 went into the building the Corporators had put up during summer of '55 & organized really & practically under the charter, the B. assuming for the first the financial support in the conduct of the school, we Miss Gregory & self intervening work as salaried teachers for the municipal salary of $200 per calendar year - Duties in vacation as well as 44 was of school -

Before the first yr - beginning Oct. 24/54 had half parted the B. begged us to take the work of their hands. They saw only ruin to the enterprise - In Mar - 1855 - we took the work of their hands by purchasing of the property at the price the B. had contracted to pay the contractor, J. J. Jefferies, for erecting the one building, the size shown of present dining room & stairway down from Library Hall. This purchase price was 4500 mostly on time @ 10%

Hopefulness of Spirit -

Never brooded over any trouble but branched off and sought something else - noticeable after the freeze when in '98 she decided to restore groves or rather to put to use land despoiled. Lame, unable to change position but little, but she was studying horticulture - studying everything she could find that would have any bearing on her groves - trying to find something new for the lands - no one who would call to discuss orange culture so full of hope as she. Mr. Cannon after calling told some one down street she was worth more than four of their business men -

She took such a delight in "conversations". Joy suggested one morning, on ^{my} ^{return} ^{home} & & she (Mrs. S.) found it - just what she wanted by her chair for papers & that she used while at work as a helpless person.

Over & over again - this & other things would be mentioned with such a spirit of thankfulness "Georgia" - her bob - for waste papers was daily almost commented on - When others were speaking of discouraging things her mind almost always turned to something encouraging.

A spirit of thankfulness manifest always.

Preparations for opening the boarding department - after the first brick building was put up.
She went back to her home in Milton, N. Y. - & engaged women & children to pick fruit for her.
She dried a great quantity & among other things put dried cherries in 12 gal - jars, packed them with sugar. She had a large quantity of bedding made up. These were packed together Comforters were wound round these precious jars of fruit - but alas, the juice seeped out & stained these new quilts thus used. There were pillows, too, made of iron. Feather beds.
Some of those shared a like fate.
The next yr - she sent to N. Y. - for dried apples & dried plums.
These careful housewives whom she knew - carefully prepared the fruit. There were boxes of dried apples packed very solid & one of flums -

There was no fruit of any kind to be had in this new country & this dried fruit was a great-blessing to them.

Judge Wilson was P. M. in Mt. C. having a deputy do the work. He noticed some papers addressed to the new teachers that seemed to imply that they might be abolitionists. The deputy called the attention of Judge W. to it & he told them that it would be "just as well not to antagonize people; it would do no good." — It seems there was much feeling there in those days. When Mr. Allison prayed for the oppressed a woman from Maryland (I think it was Mrs. Dr. Rindell's mother) rose & left the church: she was not going "to listen to such stuff"

Aug-1100 - 7000. 2 - referred to their beginning. They had by '65th between them when settled in Mt. C. - Began with eleven pupils - Two to be supported! to board - no salary excepting what they made - It yet half passed before the school was on a different basis - that is a Board & they on salary - The Board, however, were glad & sell to the school managers later & let them "make the ends meet"

At 74 - Lane - Limited in strength - Ambitious for the industry of Florida - Bought ^{just before the birthday} "big packing house" hoping it may be used for a cannery just beginning a new pinery interested in planting gingers A lot of pecans set out for the future - Experimenting with orange oranges hoping to make a "hog proof" fence to be the joy of the poor man -

Rec'd lately (just before 74" Birthday Aug 21/00) a request from Dr. H. - to pay $000 or $2000 for the endowment!
A half of all - Modest Request.

Rev. Artburn wants 100 a's of land for his projects!

1844 - ... - 5/99 - wholesale prices obtained on all above - brought a water line, water - ... for 175 - It was considered a marvel price - The Board delighted with result of purchase - Bargained for dried fruit - No fruit had in 1811: Had 9 or 11 bbl's choice dried peaches, peeled - bbl - of dried plums Cost nearly 300⁰⁰

Peter Kersy, King & Co - much interested in their venture - attended to purchase of fruit - gratuitous with great care - He learned of the conditions of things on their new place & the following later sent roses, trees of various kinds - choicest ever put on the grounds to Misses Wood & C - as a present - two boxes - It was a great gift, most highly prized, came too late to plant was stored through the winter - It heeled in in Mr. Rurwatt's cellar as there was no cellar then at the Sem. This was considered a great gift - Prof. Youmans made out list of apparatus for the new Sem.

One of the papers, Charles Thomas & Phil - volunteered when they were leaving to go to N. Y. - with them to make purchase - He afterwards went to Mt. C. as teacher or assistant of Miss Wood -

Religious Experiences

Mother most strictly devout & almost able woman mentally.

Mrs. S. - can not remember the time she did not believe in the truths of Christianity.

Used when a child read her Bible with commentary - pray - when no one knew of it - A common Experience when she entered upon the work at W.C. - the responsibility pressed upon her, she must have divine help - earnestly prayed & without special experience of conversion invited with the Church - was S. S. Supt. for a time -

In talk of July 1, 1900 - the most serious of any yet had between her & J. - She said "You may not believe it but there is not a waking hr. in wh - I do not pray" - away effect it-to effect - discussed - She expressed the feeling that she was thought hard & indifferent - in regard to these things -
